Commercial Metals Company is set to open its doors in Durant in early 2018. CMC's innovative micro mill technology uses a continuous-continuous manufacturing process that melts, casts and rolls steel from a single uninterrupted strand, producing higher yields and lower energy consumption than the traditional minimill process. The Oklahoma micro mill is a $300M project that is expected to create approximately 300 jobs in the Durant area.

The Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma is the third largest tribe in the United States, located in the heart of southeastern Oklahoma in Durant. The Tribe is building a $240 million central headquarters campus located on 80 acres to serve its 200,000 members. This will allow them to consolidate 30 different offices across Durant into one location.
